

EQUALITY AND DIVERSITY POLICY

1 Introduction

Edinburgh Women's Aid is a women only feminist organisation which exists to provide services to women, children and young people experiencing or at risk of domestic abuse. The objective justification for the provision of a service provided by women for women is in recognition of the gendered nature of domestic abuse and the need for specialist services which provide safe spaces for women and children to recover from the trauma of abuse.

Edinburgh Women's Aid recognises that many individuals and communities experience unlawful and unfair discrimination and oppression. The Equality Act 2010 sets out the following "protected characteristics":

- Age
- Disability
- Gender reassignment
- Marriage and civil partnership
- Pregnancy and maternity
- Race
- Religion and belief
- Sex
- Sexual orientation

Under the Act EWA is not allowed to discriminate, harass or victimise another person because they have any of the protected characteristics. There is also protection against discrimination where someone is perceived to have one of the protected characteristics or where they are associated with someone who has a protected characteristic.

- Discrimination means treating one person worse than another because of a protected characteristic (known as direct discrimination) or putting in place a rule or policy or way of doing things that has a worse impact on someone with a protected characteristic than someone without one, when this cannot be objectively justified (known as indirect discrimination).
- Harassment includes unwanted conduct related to a protected characteristic which has the purpose or effect of violating someone's dignity or which creates a hostile, degrading, humiliating or offensive environment for someone with a protected characteristic.
- Victimisation is treating someone unfavourably because they have taken (or might be taking) action under the Equality Act or supporting somebody who is doing so.

2 Policy Aims

Edinburgh Women's Aid believe that equality for all is a basic human right and actively opposes all forms of unlawful and unfair discrimination. Edinburgh Women's Aid celebrates the diversity of society and is striving to promote and reflect that diversity within our organisation. It is Edinburgh Women's Aid's policy to extend our non-discriminatory practice within the limitations of our service to include transgender and intersex identity, HIV/Aids status, caring responsibilities and Trades Union membership.

Edinburgh Women's Aid will keep under review all of its procedures and practices to ensure that, within the limitations of our service, no individual or group is put at a disadvantage either directly or indirectly in any of its activities.

Edinburgh Women's Aid is committed to making this policy effective and will regularly review and monitor the results of this commitment.

Edinburgh Women's Aid is committed to:

- Preventing any form of direct or indirect discrimination in our employment practice, in the governance of our organisation and in the delivery of our services, with the exception of those which demonstrate a proportionate means of meeting our legitimate aim of providing a woman only space to recover from the trauma of domestic abuse.
- Creating an environment in which individual differences and the contributions of all our staff, service users and trustees are recognised and valued.
- Creating a working environment that promotes dignity and respect to all. No form of intimidation, bullying or harassment will be tolerated.
- Reflecting and respecting diversity in all aspects of our service provision with the exception of those which demonstrate a proportionate means of meeting our legitimate aim of providing a woman only space to recover from the trauma of domestic abuse.

3 Legislative and Regulatory Framework

Edinburgh Women's Aid is responsible for complying with all legislation against discrimination and appropriate codes of practice, specifically:

- Trade Union and Labour Relations (Consolidation) Act 1992
- Rehabilitation of Offenders Act 1974
- Fixed Term Employees Regulations 2002
- Equality Act 2010

SSSC Code of Practice for Employers of Social Service Workers

The Code of Practice sets out the responsibilities of employers in the regulation of social service workers. Edinburgh Women's Aid fully recognises its responsibilities under the terms of the Code of Practice, which includes implementing and monitoring a policy on equal opportunities.

4 Responsibilities

- comply with this policy and ensure its consistent application on a day to day basis
- attend and participate in training on Equality and diversity
- bring any discriminatory behaviour to the attention of their line manager

5 Planning

Equality and diversity development and implementation will be incorporated in Edinburgh Women's Aid strategic planning process and address the development of equal opportunities within all areas of Edinburgh Women's Aid work.

6 Equality and Diversity in Employment

6.1 Aims in employment

Edinburgh Women's Aid aims to be an equal opportunities employer. Our long term aim is that the composition of our workforce should reflect that of women in the community. We recognise the value of a diverse workforce in which women from differing backgrounds, with different skills and abilities can bring new ideas to enable us to deliver high quality services.

6.2 Recruitment and Selection

Edinburgh Women's Aid Recruitment and Selection Policy details the non-discriminatory practice in the recruitment and selection process that all employees have a duty to follow. Edinburgh Women's Aid will conduct an Occupational Requirement assessment for every vacant post to establish if such a requirement is crucial to the post and if it is a proportionate means of achieving a legitimate aim.

6.3 Developing and Retaining Staff

Edinburgh Women's Aid Support and Supervision and Appraisal Policies provide the framework for Edinburgh Women's Aid to identify training and development needs on an ongoing basis with all members of staff.

Edinburgh Women's Aid Appraisal Policy and procedures exist to ensure that resources are allocated in a fair and objective way.

Edinburgh Women's Aid Learning and Development, Training, and Managing Absence Policies have also been developed to ensure that development opportunities and support are available to all staff and are managed in a fair and transparent manner.

6.4 Dignity at Work

Edinburgh Women's Aid Dignity at Work Policy has been developed to provide a working environment which is free from harassment, bullying or intimidation. Such behaviour by any member of staff may result in disciplinary action under the terms of Edinburgh Women's Aid Disciplinary Policy, which could result in dismissal.

7 Equality in Service Provision

7.1 Aims in Service Provision

Edinburgh Women's Aid provides accommodation, information and support services to women, children and young people who have been affected by domestic abuse.

Edinburgh Women's Aid recognises that women, children and young people may have differing needs because of their age, disability, gender reassignment, marriage and/or civil partnership choices, pregnancy and/or maternity, race, religion and/or belief, sex, sexual orientation, transgender and/or intersex identity, HIV/Aids status, caring responsibilities and/or Trades Union membership. Edinburgh Women's Aid provides support to any child affected by domestic abuse and to adult women. We recognise that anyone can be a victim of domestic abuse and we will treat anyone not eligible for a service from Edinburgh Women's Aid with dignity and respect and will support them to access the right service for them.

Edinburgh Women's Aid will treat all users of our service with dignity and respect and will work to ensure that they are provided without discrimination, harassment or victimisation.

7.2 Partnership

Edinburgh Women's Aid will work actively and positively in partnership with other agencies to ensure that information, support and accommodation services can be provided equitably to meet the diverse needs of women, children and young people who have experienced domestic abuse.

We will work with colleagues and other organisations who provide safe services to anyone not eligible for a service from Edinburgh Women's Aid to address gaps in service provision in Edinburgh and to promote the accessibility of the widest range of specialist domestic abuse services.

7.3 Consultation

Edinburgh Women's Aid will consult with service users in the review and development of services, policies and procedures.

7.4 Communication

Edinburgh Women's Aid will work to communicate effectively using a range of methods and where possible supply appropriate information material in different formats and languages.

7.5 Complaints

Edinburgh Women's Aid will ensure that our Complaints Policy and Procedure is easily accessible and provides information on organisations providing advice in making a complaint.

8 Equality in Governance

8.1 Aims in Governance

Edinburgh Women's Aid aims for diversity in the membership of its Board to reflect women in society. Edinburgh Women's Aid wishes to ensure that a diversity of experience, identity and opinion is represented.

8.2 Information

Edinburgh Women's Aid Memorandum and Articles of Association detail the non-discriminatory practice in recruitment and election of Board.

8.3 Recruitment

The Board of Edinburgh Women's Aid will pro-actively encourage women from under represented groups in society to stand for election. The board will address equality and diversity in its membership through its annual review and subsequent action plan.

8.4 Training and support

Edinburgh Women's Aid will provide support to Trustees to enable them to fulfil their responsibilities as Trustees.

8.5 Meetings

As far as possible, decision making will be made during formal meeting structures to ensure all Trustees have the opportunity to be involved in discussion and decision. Any decisions made outside of normal protocols will be governed by the circumstances outlined in Standing Orders supplement to the Memorandum and Articles of Association.

Meetings will be minuted and approved and all decisions correctly recorded.

Meetings of the Board will be held in venues that are accessible to all members. Dates and times of meetings will be agreed annually in advance.

9 Complaints

9.1 Service Delivery

Complaints in relation to a service provided by Edinburgh Women's Aid will be dealt with under Edinburgh Women's Aid Complaints Policy.

9.2 Employment

Edinburgh Women's Aid employees who feel they have been unfairly discriminated against in respect of their employment should raise this in the first instance with their line manager. If an employee does not feel the issue has been dealt with to their satisfaction it can be dealt with formally under Edinburgh Women's Aid Grievance Procedure.

10 Training and Information

All Edinburgh Women's Aid staff will receive a copy of the Equality and Diversity Policy and their role in implementing the policy will be fully explained and any training requirements addressed as part of their induction programme.

11 Monitoring and Review

Edinburgh Women's Aid recognises that genuine equality of opportunity can only be assessed by monitoring what is actually happening and then using this information to modify and improve our future action plans, policies and procedures.

Edinburgh Women's Aid support workers are responsible for ensuring that equalities data for women and children using our services is collected and recorded appropriately.

Edinburgh Women's Aid administrators are responsible for ensuring that equalities data in recruitment is collected and recorded appropriately.

Edinburgh Women's Aid management team is responsible for reporting on service user and employment equalities data annually to the board of directors.

Edinburgh Women's Aid board is responsible for monitoring service user and employment equalities data annually.

Edinburgh Women's Aid will review this policy every three years and when there are relevant changes in legislation or circumstances. Feedback on the workability or otherwise of this policy is welcomed, comments should be made in writing to the CEO, Edinburgh Women's Aid.
